Born into a long line of producers, João Portugal Ramos started his career as a winemaker in Alentejo in 1980.

In the end of the 1980's, as result of his accumulated experience, he accepted the challenge to become a consultant winemaker in response to requests from various producers scattered around the country.

Already as a consultant, João Portugal Ramos played an important role in the development of some notable Portuguese wines across a wide variety of regions.

In 1990, he planted his first 5 hectares of vineyard in Estremoz, where he lives. And so, began the successful path of winemaker and producer.

A DIVERSIFIED BUSINESS

WINE, BRANDY, OLIVE OIL AND VINEGAR

In 2016, the João Portugal Ramos Group stares in one of the largest beverage transactions of the year in Portugal, bringing the centenary CR&F - Carvalho Ribeiro & Ferreira brandy brand back to Portuguese hands. In this way, it extends the group's wine, olive oil and vinegar portfolio to brandy.

A LONG-TERM COMMITMENT WITH NATURE AND ITS BIODIVERSITY

WINE PRODUCTION BASED ON SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY AND ENVIRONMENTAL SUSTAINABILITY VALUES

João Portugal Ramos Group has been part of the European Business & Biodiversity Initiative since 2012, a European Network whose main objective is to highlight the relationship between business activity and biodiversity, with the aim of promoting the contribution from the business sector to its protection, thereby preserving biodiversity at local, regional, national and global levels.

JOÁO PORTUGAL RAMOS ALENTEJO

This was the place chosen by João Portugal Ramos to make his first wines, after his long career as a consultant winemaker in the most iconic Portuguese wine regions.

João Portugal Ramos planted his own vineyards in Estremoz in 1989. Since then, the area of vineyards has increased, with the aim of obtaining in each vintage a careful selection of grapes for producing exceptional wines.

JOÃO PORTUGAL RAMOS

VILA SANTA WINERY

ALENTEJO REGION

Designed in accordance with the traditional architecture of the Alentejo region, the Vila Santa winery, built in 1997 and enlarged in 2000 and in 2017, has put the city of Estremoz on the map of the great Portuguese wines, welcoming visitors from all over the world. Today it is the headquarters of João Portugal Ramos Group.

VILA SANTA – WINEMAKING PROCESS

ALENTEJO REGION

Our way of making wines is special. We ferment the grapes in marble lagares (marble troughs) to produce most of our red wines. We believe that in the lagares the extraction is much smoother due to the larger contact area of the must with the grape skins Fermentation is then finished in oak barrels or in temperature controlled stainless steel vats, depending on the desired profile of the wine. In our cellars the wines are aged in small 300 liters barrels of French, American and Hungarian oak, resting prior to bottling.

JOÃO PORTUGAL RAMOS ESTREMUS

AL ENTEJO

ESTREMUS arises not only from the desire to associate the wine to its vineyard of origin, in the shadow of the Castle of Estremoz, as well as to show and make reference to extremely high quality and elegance, both required by the winemaker João Portugal Ramos in his endless quest to create a unique and distinct wine. With all this emotional involvement, this wine, of limited edition and with numbered bottles, is meant for a consumer who also seeks this kind of rarity. Given its huge ageing potential, ESTREMUS takes you, as a consumer and above all as a keen "wine connoisseur", to go further in your imagination.

One of the most emblematic brands of João Portugal Ramos, Marquês de Borba combines the tradition of the Alentejo region with an excellent quality, present since the first vintage in 1997. The brand's name comes from the happy coincidence of João Portugal Ramos' vineyards and winery being located in the Borba Region, and also of one of his uncles having the noble title Marquês de Borba, a title created in 1811.

Present all over the world, the Marquês de Borba brand is today a symbol of the Alentejo region.

Two winemakers who have made history in Portugal over the last few decades, in two regions that the world recognizes as being of high quality and having strong personality, the Douro and Alentejo, meet again in a project thought out for the Douro, in the regions of the Cima Corgo and Upper Douro, two exceptional and protected terroirs. Thus, DUORUM (a Latin expression that means "from two") is born, a project "from two", envisaged and brought to life in the age-old vineyards of the Douro.

DUORUM Wines started in January 2007 as an expression of wishes of João Portugal Ramos and José Maria Soares Franco to join their activities as professional winemakers in one wine production project from Douro region, with unique characteristics and international dimension.

DUORUMVINEYARDS

The vineyards are located in the regions of Cima Corgo and Upper Douro, two exceptional and protected terroirs, on slopes at different altitudes (150-500m), with carefully selected varieties of indigenous grapes.

The vineyards as well as the winery are in the Douro Demarcated Wine Region, one of the most ancient in the world. Its landscape and cultural value have been recognized by UNESCO as World Heritage.

DUORUMEXEMPLARY ENVIRONMENTAL POLICY

Duorum exemplary environmental and agricultural policy has been recognized by the Portuguese Nature Conservation Institute, and consequently Duorum was accepted as member of the European Initiative on Business & Biodiversity, a network of European companies that integrate nature conservation and biodiversity concerns in its business. This commitment became an important tool for reaching the rigorous environmental standards set by Duorum.

bird watcher and therefore, it is protected by the sustainability and biodiversity policy of Duorum, a pioneer in Douro in joining the European Business & Biodiversity network.

The Black Wheatear found in Duorum estates one of its refuges in Portugal. And it was precisely in these estates that we found the best Duorum wine, honoring not only the diversity but also the biodiversity of this project.

Quinta de Foz de Arouce is located in Lousã, in Beiras region. The ancient documents kept at Quinta de Foz de Arouce state the estates belong to this family since the 18th century, but it is known that some constructions are older.

The current owners, the Counts of Foz de Arouce, in-laws of João Portugal Ramos, seek to maintain the hospitable and detached spirit with which they receive in their home, which characterizes the true Lusitanian nobility. The production of wine is like the continuation of this spirit that is reflected in its commercial philosophy: "With good wine you always make good and true friends."

QUINTA DE FOZ DE AROUCE PROUD OF TRADITION | 70 YEARS OLD VINEYARDS

Quinta de Foz de Arouce estate is located in Lousã, Beiras region. It is surrounded by the foothills of Lousã and Penela Mountains and is bathed by Arouce and Ceira rivers where the first one flows. The old documents in the house refer to the properties as belonging to the family since the 18th century, knowing that some dependencies are older, as the primitive house was consumed by fire twice. It was in the 70's that João Filipe Osório de Meneses Pitta, inheriting this property, discovered the potential of the vineyards over 40 years old, producing wines of unquestionable quality. In the 80's João Portugal Ramos joined the family by marrying his daughter Teresa, becoming the consultant and winemaker of the house.

VINHOS VERDES

In 2012, João Portugal Ramos headed north, to the Vinhos Verdes region and chose the Monção and Melgaço region, which enormous potential to produce high quality Alvarinho is widely recognized, to start a new project dreamed and realized with the launch of his first Alvarinho.

He continued to study and deepen his knowledge of the region and the different parcels of the vineyards, and as a result of this work the João Portugal Ramos Alvarinho Sparkling wine 2014, was the first sparkling wine of the subregion to be launched as Bruto Natural.

VINHOS VERDES

Vinhos Verdes Demarcated Region is the largest Portuguese region in terms of area and one of the largest in Europe. It extends throughout the northwest of Portugal, in the area traditionally known as "Entre-Douro-e-Minho". The natural conditions of this region are ideal to produce excellent white wines, as well as sparkling wines and brandies. Many differentiating factors contribute to the splendor of this unique region: the influence of the Atlantic Ocean and the exposure to sea winds, granite soils, mild climate and high rainfall. All of them bring freshness, balance and elegance to the wines. The Alvarinho variety is the main "star" of this region.
